July 8, 2011 Launch Call Announcement

As most of you know who have NonGuru Network, PMA As many of you know (and for trying to help my fellow law and alternative health. TNGN is now about to launch, however, NOT according to my expectations or plans. Bummer!

been on My Private Audio's website, The ("TNGN") has been in the works for some time. those who don't know), I'm a very busy guy man/woman in these perilous times in areas of

Due to said times that we live in, I have been pushed & prodded, on more than a few occasions, to get the network started now, even if the platform has not been completed. This is the sum and substance of calls and understand that you want however, we, as a collective group, emails I've received: "Come on now, I everything perfect when you start, can work on things as we go along, we need you now!" What I have been noticing is that people have been using the word "WE," which makes me happy. People have really brought into the "community" concept more than I thought they would. The People are setting the tone, not yours truly.

The website is not completed and my plans not fully in place, but many of the people don't care, they want me to get started.

The People have spoken, and I am hearing you loud and clear. I submit to you, for I am your servant.

My big concern: What to charge for the membership?? I have been wrestling with this issue for quite some time. I am very much aware of the people's financial plight, but the platform must pay for itself and some of yours truly's efforts.

Recently, a startling revelation came to me. A true light bulb moment! A win-win with a chance to put a grin on the faces of the people I love to see win, so where do we begin my friend?

Would you be interested in learning from/with Private Nobody and others while earning with Private Nobody and others who are very successful in a can't miss, recession-proof opportunity?

I know many of you are dedicated to learn to fix your foreclosure/credit or health situations. A good attribute; more people need to be like you in this regard.

Are you a team player? Are you coachable and teachable? Selfish people need not apply for TNGN.

Do you follow instructions well? People who cannot follow simple instructions and who are disruptive need not apply for TNGN.

Are you willing to share your time and talent with others after you get your information, relief, etc.?

These are important questions for participation in TNGN and in ...

Would you be interested in having the membership fee to join TNGN be tied in with an EASY income opportunity to assist the membership with their monetary plight - for one low price, i.e., a 2-4-1 deal?

Are you opposed to making some money part or full time (a few of you don't need it [PTL], but most do ...) while learning how other alleged debt collectors and  to effectively confront the banksters, servicers, their crooked attorneys?

Are you opposed to asking another person 4 simple questions to get a decision 90% of the time to put money in your pocket?

As most of you well know, my DNA seems to be engineered to compel me to help my fellow man/woman in any way I can; been doing it for almost 25 years, mostly without charge. I genuinely want to see people do well; I get a rush out of seeing someone win; it makes me smile or grin. I have truly learned that it is more blessed to give than to receive. Well, it looks like all that giving is about to pay off, and I want you to share it with me; I want you to come with me for the ride so we can learn & earn together.

I have been given an idea in which I am super excited about, like a child in a candy factory. I can't wait to reveal it. To share knowledge, health and wealth, what a combination!
